

Aviation Maintenance Technology AA D

Program Area Aviation (Fall ↑ ↑)

REMEMBER TO REGISTER EARLY**

o D p on

The Airframe and Powerplant maintenance technician program trains students in the repair and scheduled maintenance of aircraft. This fully approved Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) program prepares graduates to repair and maintain commercial and general technically advanced aircraft found in today's market. Training will include study and hands on experiences in reading and comprehending aircraft manuals troubleshooting and repairing electrical malfunctions using electrical schematics analyzing and repairing powerplant malfunctions repair airframe structures and return aircraft to service maintaining aircraft powerplant subsystems and determine their airworthiness in accordance with applicable FAA and manufacturer specifications.

u Cou

u	Cou	C
AMT .	Fundamentals I
AMT . ↑	Fundamentals II

o u o

- Students will successfully pass the required FAA written testing required of an Airframe and Power Plant Mechanic
- Students will utilize appropriate technology as it pertains to the aviation industry

Aviation Maintenance Technology